II. Catalog Description

Prerequisite: ACCT 104 - Managerial Accounting. This course provides an introduction to the concepts and methods of auditing. Topics covered include the responsibilities and standards of the auditor, the procedures and techniques for examining internal control, assets, liabilities, equity, income and expenses, auditor's work papers and reports.

III. Statement of Course Need

A. This course is necessary for those intending to become auditors or CPA’s. Audits help businesses uncover problems and insure the effective operations of an organization.
Additionally, audits are necessary to review a business’ compliance with a multitude of administrative regulations, and give shareholders and investors confidence that the processes and policies in place are being adhered to. Auditing instills a sense of confidence in management that the business is functioning well and is prepared to meet potential challenges. Auditing is a core business activity for many accountants.
